This score is a composite of the four domain scores discussed below.

The bar chart below shows Hong Kong’s total risk scores in 4 domains: (1) Business Interactions with Government, (2) Anti-Bribery Deterrence and Enforcement, (3) Government and Civil Service Transparency and (4) Capacity for Civil Society Oversight. The four domain scores are weighted and combined and a risk penalty is added for individual domain scores that exceed the overall country risk score. Each country is given a score from 1 to 100 for each domain, and for the total bribery risk. A higher score indicates a higher risk of business bribery.

- 1. Business Interactions with Government: Hong Kong receives a very low score of 7 in this domain, based on a very low degree of government interaction, very low expectation of bribes, and a very low regulatory burden.
- 2. Anti-bribery Deterrence and Enforcement: Hong Kong receives a very low score of 13 in this domain, based on a high quality of anti-bribery laws and a very high quality of anti-bribery enforcement.
- 3. Government and Civil Services Transparency: Hong Kong receives a very low score of 18 in this domain, based on very good governmental transparency and good transparency of financial interests.
- 4. Capacity for Civil Society Oversight: Hong Kong receives a medium score of 38 in this domain, based on a medium degree of media freedom/quality and a medium degree of civic engagement.
